

The 2nd International Conference
"Insects to Feed the World" (IFW 2018)
May 15-18, 2018 Wuhan, China

IFW 2018 will concentrate on the following topics:

- The role of insects in food and feed production systems
- Highlights of using insects in China for food, feed and pharma Ethno-entomology
- Farming insects
- Special food production systems
- Special feed production systems
- Nutrition, processing and conservation of edible insects
- Insects as food and feed components and supplements
- Environmental issues in gathering and farming insects
- Food safety, legislation, and policy
- Marketing, and economics
- Consumer attitudes
- Edible insects and ethics
- Future research and conducive policies

WUHAN
CHINA

武汉, 每天又一样!

Wuhan, Different Every Day!

WU
HAN
CHINA

Important Days

Feb. 2018 11	Deadline Early Bird Registration	Mar. 2018 31	Deadline Hotel Booking
Mar. 2018 1	Deadline Abstract Submission	Apr. 2018 15	Deadline Request for Side Events

Contact

Dr. Longyu Zheng
Huazhong Agricultural University, China
ly.zheng@mail.hzau.edu.cn

Dr. Arnold van Huis
Wageningen University
The Netherlands
arnold.vanhuis@wur.nl

Dr. Jeffery K. Tomberlin
Texas A&M University
USA
jktomberlin@tamu.edu

Local organizing committee of IFW 2018 Email: ifw2018@126.com

Website: <http://ifw2018.csp.escience.cn/dct/page/1>